

Former Salt Lake City mayor files new legal papers in Brewvies 'Deadpool' fight

 kutv.com/news/local/former-salt-lake-city-mayor-files-new-legal-papers-in-brewvies-deadpool-fight

(KUTV) — Lawyer and former Salt Lake City Mayor Rocky Anderson is filing new legal papers against the state on behalf of local movie theater Brewvies.

The theater violated a state law last year when it showed the film "Deadpool" while serving alcohol.

State regulators issued a fine against the theater, but later withdrew it.

Fine or not, Anderson said the law is unconstitutional and is asking a federal judge to strike it down.